

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott

Copyright, 1908, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.

Solomon Chooses Wisdom.—1 Kings iii: 1-15.

Golden Text.—The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Prov. ix: 10.

Verse 4.—What is the chief dependence alike of a king and a citizen?

What was the chief object of sacrifices in those days? Was it to appease God, or to develop a spirit of giving to God; and did they have any idea that it prefigured the death of Jesus?

What are the chief benefits to the giver of money given to the church, to missions and to the poor?

Which is the richer man and the one who has lived to most purpose, he who dies leaving no estate, but having given to God's cause $20,000 during his life, or one who dies leaving an estate of $20,000, and having given away practically nothing during life?

Verse 5.—Are such visions or dreams, which Solomon had, unusual in these days to spiritually minded people?

How could Solomon distinguish this dream from an ordinary dream?

Does God still give his children a choice as to what they would like, or does he choose for them?

God does not choose for his children, does he influence them in their choice, and what is the difference in the two supposed methods?

Verse 6.—What help is it to us, to be able to praise God for the lives of our fathers and mothers?

Do you think it probable that our fathers and mothers, on the other side, look back and see their sons and daughters here, and take pleasure in their prospering?

Verse 7.—Should we, like Solomon, recognize the hand of God, in putting us into our present positions?

Are great men ever boastful; and is true humility always a mark of greatness?

Verse 8.—Solomon's chief desire was, to have wisdom to administer the trust committed to him; what should be our chief desire?

No matter how grave our responsibilities, or difficult our position, it is absolutely sure that God will give us in answer to our prayer, the necessary wisdom and facilities to successfully administer our trust?

Should all men in positions of public trust feel their insufficiency and call upon God as Solomon did?

Verse 10-12.—Why did Solomon's request please the Lord?

Does God today answer every true or wise prayer, as he did this prayer of Solomon?

Would not all public, and private, sin and folly be prevented if men only relied upon God?

What is some of the evidence, that God gave Solomon great wisdom?

Verse 13.—If our prayers are for goodness, and not greatness, to be of service and not to be served, may we depend that God will give us every other necessary thing, without our asking? (See Math. vi: 33-34.) (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Will every true Christian have all the riches and honor that are good for him?

Verse 14.—Were God's promises in this case conditional upon obedience, and are they so conditioned in every case?

Verse 15.—Does communion with God always make us strong and brave and generous?
